EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with John Biernacki (Reg. 40,511) on 3/31/2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

Per claim 1:

In line 10: after "wherein," "the" has been changed to --a--

In line 15, before "human-understandable," 'a' has been changed to --the--

These amendments were necessary in order to obviate any rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112 2nd.

Examiner's Statement of Reason(s) for Allowance

2. Claims 1-36 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Art Unit: 2193

The closest prior arts of record, i.e. Johnson and JSX, taken alone or in combination, fail to teach or fairly suggest at least:

storing in a computer-readable file the private object state data that has been determined to have been modified wherein the computer-readable file is in a human-understandable able format and restoring from the computer-readable file the private state data that had been determined to have been modified as recited in the independent claim 1; determining the restoration order because of an interdependency between object data recited in the independent claims 26 and 32.

While the combined references of Johnson and JSX disclose storing and restoring public and private data into and from XML, Johnson and JSX do not specifically state the determination steps recited in the claims: the private data that has been determined to have been modified and restoring from the human-understandable computer-readable file the private data that bed been determined to have been modified; determining a restoration order because of an interdependency between object data.

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Art Unit: 2193
